THE CHANGES.

Interesting Events to Come at Washington.

Result of Election Will Give to the Democrats a Large Number of Offices in Congress.

With the restoration of the Democratic party to power in the House of Representatives after March 4 next there will come, coincidental with the reorganization of that body, the filling of many places with Democrats. New officers of the House will have to be chosen in place of Col. Alexander McDowell, the present clerk; Col. Henry M. Casson, the sergeant-at-arms; also a new doorkeeper in place of F. H. Lyon, and possibly a new chaplain, postmaster and parliamentary. There are scores of clerkships to be filled and private secretariats to the chairman of sixty-two large committees of the House. Altogether there will be several hundred choice posts, practically all of which are now filled by Republicans, mainly from Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan and Pennsylvania, and the selection of their successors will give a number of the young men of the South a chance for promotion.

Most of the minor positions, such as committee clerkships and private secretariats, will be filled by March 4, when the defeated Republicans go out of power. Only those whose members were retained will remain, but the more important posts, such as the doorkeeper and postmaster will continue to be filled by their successors. Statute law provides for this, so that when the time rolls around for the actual organization of the next Congress there will be somebody on hand with authority to set the machinery in motion.

The incoming Sixty-second Congress, which is not scheduled to meet until December, 1911, unless, of course, President Taft calls it into extraordinary session, will be called to order by a Republican. When the gavel falls in the presence of that great gathering of the House with a majority of some sixty-odd, for control, that symbol of the speakership will be in the hands of Col. Alexander McDowell. Under the statute law of the land Col. McDowell will not only call the new Congress to order, so far as the House is concerned, but he will also preside over the deliberations of the House until a Speaker is chosen. There is no one else who could do so, as there will be no officers of the House until after the election of its Speaker and one of its members.

It will also devolve upon Col. McDowell to make up the tentative unofficial list of members of the Sixty-second Congress and to handle the preliminary proceedings relative to the election contests to be filed in some of the close districts. Therefore, under the law, Col. McDowell and the other major officers of the House will hold office until the Sixty-second House meets December, 1911, if necessary.

There are intimations that President Taft will call a special session of the Sixty-second Congress immediately after the adjournment of the coming short session of the Sixty-first Congress and send in a message on the tariff. That Mr. Taft has been rather strongly impressed by the verdict of the people on the tariff is certain, but whether he intends to call an extra session depends upon the advice he receives when Congress meets in December and its effect upon his intentions.

Those holders of House jobs, whose necks would feel the noose in the event of the session being called to meet earlier than December, 1911, and the men responsible for their appointment will resist any extra session, because the moment the next Congress meets and is organized that moment these Republicans will lose their jobs. However, considerations of policy may weigh heavier with Mr. Taft than mere matters of patronage and it is not improbable that he will call the new House together next spring and recommend tariff revision, in an effort to see whether a Democratic majority can satisfy the country. Republicans are already predicting Democratic failure, but the Democrats intend to set with wisdom and deliberation and are not afraid to tackle the tariff when it is reached.

We Observed the Day.

The last Thursday in November found our people in a contented frame of mind, willing observe and give thanks. So on yesterday we manifested a disposition to go to church, to abstain from labor, if possible, to entertain and be thankful for what we had and that, as poor old Uncle Jim used to say "things is as well with us as what they am." The previously announced church services were held the school children had a holiday and numerous tables were loaded with the best things of life. Turkey, game, oysters, chicken, roasts, steaks, all manner of excellent vegetables, all manner of relishes and all manner of cake—layer cake, sponge cake, eight egg cake, fruit cake, nut cake, blackberry cake, devil cake, angel cake and, later, atom-achiche.

The News feels safe in saying that probably there is not in Louisiana anyone so poor that he could not on this day of thanksgiving provide a good dinner for himself and his family. If there be such and their condition was known the hospitality and generosity of our people would supply every needed want, and more.

GOOD AMATEUR PLAY.

The Actor's Club, of Paintsville, Give a Good Performance.

The Actor's Club, of Paintsville, visited Louisa on Wednesday last and presented to a large and highly pleased audience at Masonic Hall the remarkable and thrilling play of Novan, or The Lost Mine. The performance was something of a surprise, in that it was out of the ordinary "Western drama," and because of the excellence of the players both as individuals and as a whole. There was scarcely the slightest hitch in the rendition of the three acts, the dialogue and the stage "business" moving along with grace, smoothness and promptness. Every participant was "letter perfect" in every part, and if there was any prompting the audience was not aware of it. The costumes and the make up were excellent and quite professional. The male characters did so well that it would be unfair to make any comparisons. They acted spiritedly and intelligently, two or three of them in a manner above the acting of amateurs. There were three young ladies in the cast, Miss Gueva Wells, and Miss Ruth Kirk, of Paintsville, and Miss Goldie Ward, of River. These young ladies "brought down the house." Not only did they know their lines and look and act their parts, but in vocal modulation, facial expression and fetching bits of by-play they were to use an allowable piece of slang, "immense." Paintsville has much reason to be proud of its Actor's Club.

Mingo Men Buy Fine Store.

Dr. Herbert M. Coleman, of Matewan, W. Va., has been here for a few days and purchased a fancy saddle mare that he will ship to his home. He was accompanied by Dr. A. G. Rutherford, who invested a good sum in a fancy saddle horse and a fine Jersey cow, that will have shipped to his West Virginia home.—Maysville Bulletin.

Hunting in Automobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Burchett and Dr. "Bo" Fulkerson took a hunt in the Burchett automobile Tuesday. They went to Yatesville in pursuit of birds and beasts, and had a fine outing. The amount of game captured is not told, except by one young lady who frankly admitted that she fired twice and all she got was a bruised arm.

Will Use Core Drill.

The core drill which has played so prominent a part in the development of this immediate section, is to be brought into use by the Consolidation Coal Co., which will make a thorough search for coal underground on its vast holdings on Millers creek. It is the opinion of experts that a larger and better vein of coal lies a few feet underground throughout this entire section, and the Consolidation Coal Co. will make a thorough investigation of its property with this belief in view. Whitehouse proved to be a great coal field even after the hill coal had all been mined. The underground coal has proven better than the coal found in the hill there and the Flahart Co. is now working a six foot vein that is found ninety feet underground.

Toney-Arnett.

L. M. Toney, janitor at the court house, received a letter this morning from his daughter, Miss Gazelle Toney, who is teaching at Fort Gay, W. Va., announcing the fact that she will be married Thursday to Mr. Edward Arnett, a young man of that place. The wedding will be simple and quiet in all its features and will be witnessed by only a few of the more intimate friends of the principals. Miss Toney is a most excellent young lady and has a host of friends here who will join in wishing her unbounded success and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Arnett will reside in Fort Gay, where the groom is employed.—Ironton Register.

Shot While in Bed at Home.

Pikeville, Ky., Nov. 15. R. F. Blankenship, the night watchman at the big sawmill of George J. Walker, at Phelps, on Peter creek, this county while in bed at his home last Wednesday night, was shot with a shotgun and killed instantly. The wife of Blankenship and a man known as "Hyena" Cullins were arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime, and were brought here last night and lodged in jail, which was the first news of the affair to reach here. Much mystery surrounds the case, and we have been able thus far to glean only the bare facts in this case, which is likely to prove to be a most sensational one.

Will Go To Washington.

John Chapman, a well known and worthy citizen of Louisa, will make for himself and family a home in the far off State of Washington. He has bought a $6,000 fruit farm, and if samples of its products are fair ones he has struck it rich. He has been there several months, and his family will join him soon. They will live near the town of Malaga, near some other former Sandians.

BLANKENSHIP RELEASED.

Telegram From Texas Says He Was Turned Loose a Few Days Ago.

According to a telegram received from a detective at El Paso Monday, Ben Blankenship was released because the terms of the captors were not complied with by the interested parties here.

After the arrest the authorities telegraphed here demanding a deposit of the $500 reward. A deposit of $400 was made and the bank wired this fact. It was then, according to the latest information, that the man was turned loose.

The reports from El Paso said that Blankenship had surrendered and Gov. Wilson notified Mr. Walker that he could not pay the reward on a surrender. The $400 was then put up by Mr. Walker.

Just what steps will now be taken is not known.

Sentiment Must Be Made.

The News jogs the memory of taxpayers concerning the near approach of the day before which all State and county taxes must be paid. November 30th, next Wednesday is the last day of grace. After that date the penalty will be added.

TWO MEN SHOT.

Mysterious Tragedy at Matewan, W. Va.

One Dead and the Other Will Probably Lose His Life From Blood Poisoning.

Mr. Lewis Rutherford, one of the best known residents of Mingo county, died in the Matewan hospital Wednesday morning as the result of a pistol wound sustained Thursday night of last week.

William Thaxton, of Matewan, who was shot at the same time, is in the Welch hospital for treatment and it was reported Friday that his condition is quite serious.

Many reports have been circulated as to how these two men were shot and it has been impossible to learn the exact facts. No arrests had been made at the time of going to press, says the Mingo Republican.

One report connects James Crawford, of Matewan, with the affair Crawford and Rutherford were friends and it is said that Mr. Rutherford stated that if Crawford did the shooting it was accidental.

At first Mr. Rutherford paid no attention to his wound. The hall entered his leg two inches below the knee and severed the tibial artery but it was not until the next day that he went to a physician.

Friday morning he was taken to the Matewan hospital but it was not until Tuesday that the limb was amputated. Gangrene had set in and the physicians could do nothing to save his life. Dr. A. G. Rutherford, son of the wounded man, was away when the shooting occurred and did not reach his father's side until Monday. Dr. H. D. Hatfield was then summoned and the operation was performed at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Rutherford rallied for a time but died at three o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. Rutherford had lived in Mingo county nearly all his life and was widely known. He is survived by the following children: Dr. A. G. Rutherford, of Thacker; Lawrence, of Matewan; Dr. L. A. of Oklahoma; Dr. G. C. of Indian Territory; Donald, a student at the state university, and Leonard and Robert at home.

The funeral was held Wednesday evening and interment followed in the family graveyard about three miles west of Matewan.

LATER.—We are informed by a reliable man who was at Matewan soon after the shooting that it was without provocation further than a political soreness resulting from the election a few days previous. The man who is charged with the crime is of opposite politics from that of the two men who were shot and is said to be a tool of gang and is in control. He is said to have had a revolver in each side coat pocket and did the shooting without removing the pistols from his pockets. He pretended to be shooting for amusement and without any intention of injuring anyone. Mingo county has some of the toughest holes on earth and should be cleaned up.

The First Red Ad.

It is hardly necessary to call the attention of our readers to the large advertisement of Mr. J. Israsky, the merchant. It appears in flaming color that will turn its way into the consideration of the 10,000 people who buy, beg, borrow and steal the Big Sandy News each week. This advertisement has the distinction of being the first to be printed in red in the News within the twenty-five years of its existence. The extra cost to the advertiser is considerable, but he feels justified in making the outlay on this occasion because he has an unusually strong message to give to the people of this territory. Having been very fortunate in buying an immense quantity of goods at a fraction of their value he is offering them to the public for quick sale at proportionately low figures. He promises the largest special sale and the greatest values yet offered to the people of the Big Sandy valley. Those who have attended his special sales heretofore can best appreciate what great bargains he gives.

Prices the same to everybody. All lots and articles are marked in plain figures and no deviation will be made from them in any case. Don't miss this sale if you have any desire to save money. Read the advertisement entirely through and get the dates. It lasts only 15 days.

Enthusiastic Nimrod.

Luce Marcum, one of the most enthusiastic nimrods of Huntington, has already been consigned to the hospital, or to his home, as a result of injuries received during his third day out in the bush, since the quail season opened. He must have had too heavy a charge in his gun, as it appears to have shot both ways when he pulled the trigger on a covey of quail. Hereceived some bruises from the impact of the gun and his body on his body that has disabled him from further service in the field for a few days.—Cattlettsburg Tribune.

Judge Marcum for Speaker.

As the House of Delegates will be Democratic why not elect Judge W. W. Marcum of Wayne county Speaker? Although the editor of this paper and Judge Marcum do not agree as regards to politics we should like to see the Judge elected Speaker of the West Virginia House of Delegates.—Ceredo Advance.

LARGE COKING PLANT.

East Kentucky to Have One of the Largest in the World.

Representatives of the Consolidation Coal Co., a gigantic concern which recently acquired 100,000 acres of coking coal lands in Eastern Kentucky, a large percentage of which lies in Letcher county, along Boone's Fork and the headwaters of Elk Horn Creek, makes the announcement that they will begin within the next few months one of the largest coking coal plants in the entire South. The exact location of the plant has not yet been determined, but it will be either on Boone's Fork or the head of the Elk Horn, near the center of the main coal field. Thousands of hands will be employed in opening miners' houses from the beginning and millions of dollars will be expended in developments.

The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad has decided to build from the north onto the property, a distance of about twenty-five miles, while the Louisville and Nashville is now rapidly constructing its line from the south, up the north fork of the Kentucky River, both lines of which will give ample shipping connections. The Consolidation Coal Co. is not the only company that will make developments, as there are other concerns which have acquired large holdings, all of which will be developed within the next twelve months.

Union Church at Van Lear.

Van Lear is soon to have a fine church building which will be known as Union Church, every denomination that cares to being given opportunity to hold services in the building. A committee of citizens representing the different denominations will act as trustees of the church and will so arrange dates that there will be no conflict between denominations. The idea is to have harmony in matters of religion at Van Lear. The idea is a good one and we hope to see it succeed.—Paintsville Herald.

PUT FAIR VALUATION.

If sheep growers are not careful the dog tax will be repealed and they will receive nothing for their sheep destroyed. Place only a fair and just valuation on sheep killed by dogs and the tax will go farther. There is considerable complaint, whether just or unjust, that damages have been assessed entirely too high in many instances.—Mt. Olivet Tribune Democrat.

Celebrated Their Golden Wedding.

On the 21st day of November, 1860, in the town of Palatka, Johnson county, Ky., was solemnized the marriage of Samuel Patton Hager and Angellia Brown, daughter of Judge Thomas S. Brown, and one of the foremost of Eastern Kentucky's brainy men. The late lamented Dr. Zephania Meek was the officiating clergyman, he then being but a young mountain divine, and this being the first marriage to which he was called to officiate. Monday at their home on East Winchester avenue, Ashland, with their children and grand-children, this lovable and loving bride and groom of fifty years ago celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their happy marriage.

Was Buried Saturday.

The funeral and burial of Mrs. T. D. Marcum, whose death was chronicled in this paper last week, took place on Saturday last, the funeral services being held in the Baptist church and the interment in the city cemetery. For one hour the business houses were closed, and the solemn service was conducted by the pastors of the Baptist, Southern Methodist and Presbyterian churches. For many years Mrs. Marcum was a resident of Louisa, living first in the J. C. Thomas house and then in the residence now occupied by M. S. Burns. She is remembered with great respect and esteem by all who knew her.

Killed in Carter County.

Grayson, Ky., Nov. 23.—Sheriff C. M. Gibbons and Deputy E. Lewis, of West Union, Adams county, O., trailing James P. Smith and William Purkee and Joba Gasins, who broke jail Thursday night and escaped through the hills from Concord, Ky., to four miles of Grayson, came upon them. When the officers demanded surrender Smith opened fire upon Lewis as he jumped from the buggy, and fired four shots. Lewis and Gibbons returned the fire, Lewis killing Smith instantly. Purkee and Gasins ran to the woods and were overtaken by the officers and are now in jail there.

An inquest was held, the verdict of the jury vindicating the officers.

Why Taft Hurried to Panama.

The cross section of the Gatun spillway dam is an ogee, made up of an arc of a parabola, a tangent, and the arc of a circle, the parabola being such that when the stream flowing over the crest is six feet or more in depth the nappe will adhere to the downstream face of the dam. (From the Canal Commission's Report.)

This is simply dreadful. The News hopes the condition has been exaggerated.

KILLED HIS COUSIN.

John Dials Perkins Fatally Shot by Anderson Perkins at Webville.

John Dials Perkins was killed Wednesday night near Webville, this county. Anderson Perkins is charged with the crime, but has not yet been arrested. The men were first cousins.

The trouble arose amongst some women of the neighborhood, who engaged in a fight. The battle became so fierce that the men took a hand. Perkins was shot in the neck and death was almost instantaneous. The ball struck the vertebra and broke it.

The dead man leaves a wife and two children. He was about 38 years old. Anderson Perkins is 31 and has no family.

Feeling is running high in the neighborhood and further trouble is reported to be imminent. The killing occurred at Cherokee Gap, three miles from Webville.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

The Jolly Girl.

The jolly girl is born, not made; no training or endeavor can counteract her. There are those, to be sure, who affect jollity, but it is only skindieps, says a writer in Harper's Bazaar. The jolly girl is jolly under adverse circumstances—in bad weather; when she hasn't a cent to her name; when she has the toothache; when she has lost her situation; when she breaks her needle; when her back hair tumbles down in public; when she is shopping; when her masculine neighbor at the theater goes out and when he returns; when her bills are due. She never seems to indulge in that feminine luxury "the blues" and it is a mistake to suppose that she is noisy; there is jollity of the lady-like, aristocratic sort, as well as of the fish-wife order.

The girl who makes up her mind that jollity is the proper cue, and that she will be lively or die usually overdoes the business she thinks that it chiefly consists in laughing and in chattering nonsense, that it is a manner of speech merely, rather than a quality of the mind which disposes one to make the best of everything, to see the rainbow on the cloud and the silver lining behind it, to make the wrinkle in the rose leaf a cause of mirth. Some believe that jollity is an affair of embouchure; but who has not been disappointed in finding the stout woman melancholy and the thin one vivacious, the bilious person full of good-humor and the person whose digestion never gave her a moment's uneasiness quite the reverse? The jolly girl can not suppress herself, and assumes sadness or pensiveness languishing airs do not sit well upon her, but show at a glance, that they are borrowed plumes. One is never dull with her. She has that infinite variety which all the world covets and loves. It may be a desirable thing that those who have not this natural grace should cultivate and encourage it in themselves and others, since it brightens and strengthens life, makes rough places smoother and pleasant places pleasanter. Possibly it is no special virtue in the jolly girl any more than blue eyes in the blonde maiden or red hair in the Titianesque. Jollity flows from her presence just as the nightingale's fluting bubbles from his throat and enchants the world; just as the poet pours forth his son. "In profuse strains of unpremeditated art." Just as the tree blossoms, the grasses sprout, the stars shine, without effort, without design, with sincerity and constancy and spontaneity. Let her be shipwrecked, or an invalid stranded on a bed of pain yet she does not lose or abate that peculiar trait which makes sunshine for those about her and sweeps the cobwebs out of their sky.

Return of the Prodigal Son in 1910.

No, it isn't that the world has grown hard hearted; it isn't that we aren't just as glad today to see the prodigal come back and just as lovingly anxious to welcome him home as ever was anybody in the 15th chapter of Luke. It is the manner in which the prodigal son of 1910 frequently returns that throws a wet blanket over the festivities of the welcome. When he comes down the road with his hat hanging on his ear and his hands in his pockets; when he kicks the faithful old house-dog as he lounges in at the gate; when he calls his father "Gov'nor" and the hired man "Cull," when he wants to know, "what's for dinner?" before he has been in the house fifteen minutes; when he gives his elder brother two fingers to shake, and advises him to comb the hayseed out of his hair, when he throws himself into the easiest chair in the house perches his feet on the window sill and announces that he'll "take a nib before dinner," when he comes back with a generally forgiving air of good fellowship about him, and tries to make all the rest of the family feel very easy and reassured—then it is my son that your father longs to run and meet you while you are a great way off and fall upon your neck with a plow line and wet you into a state of becoming humility and penitence by the time you are able to take off your hat to the bound boy, and crawl up to the front steps to ask your brother to shake hands with you. Good people are just as glad today as ever they were, to see a prodigal come home, but it does rattle them a little to see him come home in a hack and ask them to pay the driver and send for his baggage.

Make others happy and be happy.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

"If our prohibitive tariff were made more competitive, if it were actually lowered," declares the Massachusetts Democratic club,
"more goods would be imported,
prices would fall and yet the revenue would increase. We demand the removal of taxes on foodstuffs and other necessities of life, a tariff low enough on all manufactured articles to prevent the control of our markets by the trusts and to impose the check of competition upon inordinate profits of capital."
Here is good Democratic doctrine and we commend it to the new Congress.

by the State Superintendent of Education, is a native of Pike county.

PIKEVILLE.

Mrs. R. F. Blankenship and a man known as "Hyena" Collins are confined in the county jail here having been accused of murdering the woman's husband at their home at Phelps, this county, one night last week, by shooting him with a shotgun, while he was asleep in bed. There seems to be little doubt as to their guilt.

Mrs. John J. Elliott is here from Charlottesville, Va., the guest of her daughter, Mrs. James Draper Francis at their West Pikeville home.

The directors of the Elkhorn Land Improvement Company met last Saturday and decided on making much needed improvement of their property at Elkhorn City and to that end decided to spend about ten thousand dollars by way of establishing all of the exterior lines, planting stones and marking plainly the corners and boundary lines and fencing the exterior lines with wire, and grading the streets and alleys. This company will also construct side walks in front of the unsold lots in both Elkhorn City and East Elkhorn City and mapping same and will install a water and sewerage system and build some houses. This will be done so that same may be in better condition to be placed on the market thereby that it may result in more advantageous prices. There is strong talk of the building of a high school and college here next summer.

A BIT OF ADVICE.

First—Don't Delay. Second—Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache; head aches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. The kidneys are calling for help. Slight symptoms of kidney trouble are but forerunners of more serious complaints. They should be given attention before it is too late.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Louisa residents desire more convincing proof than the statement of a Louisa citizen who says that the cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected years ago has proven permanent?

Mrs. P. A. Evans, of Louisa, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave me entire satisfaction in our family that in January 1908, I pub-ly recommended them. Doan's Kidney Pills were used for a weak and lame back, caused by disordered kidneys and they made a complete and permanent cure. I willingly allow the continued publication of my former testimonial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. Meek, who moved to Louisa not long since, have decided to return to Cattlettsburg. They are here today calling on friends and looking for a house in which to move.—Cattlettsburg Tribune.

The News goes to press about four hours before the appearance of the Peerless Princess Quantele at the Masonic Hall. It is the first number of the lecture course recently contracted for appearance in Louisa during the winter. Mrs. Ruth Atkinson and Prof. J. H. McClure are the local guarantors and managers. It is a character of entertainment that deserves liberal patronage and we hope Louisa will show its appreciation by filling the house.

Ben Williamson, Norman Price, and Lou Davidson came up from Cattlettsburg Sunday in Mr. Williamson's automobile and remained in the county two or three days, hunting. On Monday they went as far as Blaine and Wilbur, and on Tuesday they started home by way of Catt's and East fork. They found the roads pretty rough for motoring, but so far as heard from they have met with no mishap.

The special prayer services held daily this week by the ladies of the W. P. M. S. have been greatly enjoyed by all who participated. Another meeting will be held Friday with Mrs. Horton as leader. Also on Saturday afternoon at Mrs. W. L. Reid's, with Mrs. Preston as leader.

LOST—Gold frame spectacles in case marked "Moore, Huntington, W. Va.," on evening train, Nov. 17, between Ashland and Louisa or in Ashland. Return to News office and receive reward.

The health of this community is much improved over last week's conditions. The eruptive troubles are well in hand and there have been no deaths.

To Samuel Ferguson's Descendants.

I am now filling up the blank applications of those descendants that have manifested their desire to be listed by paying the fee of two dollars as their part of the expense of making the investigation. And as there has only about one-fourth of the descendants listed paid I will be compelled to leave out all names that have not paid, as the expense of making up the full family lists will amount to more than have been paid in.

The failure to pay the expense fee will not cut any one out of their portion of any estate we may get.

Yet it is right and just that all that are able to pay should pay their part, and as this estate has been in our ears from generation to generation, I see no better time than now to settle it for all time to come, and if there is an estate lets have it, and if none lets know it, we will have made up a family record that will be worth that to any family all that it has cost them.

ARRAIGNED AS A BLASPHEMER

Matthew 26:57-68—November 27

"Who when he was reviled, replied not again."

1 Peter 2:23.

It cannot do better at the opening of this study than quote the words of Mr. Chandler. He said: "Many remarkable trials have characterized the judicial history of mankind. The trial of Socrates, before the democracy of Athens, charged with corrupting the Athenian youth, with blaspheming the Olympic gods and seeking to destroy the constitution of the Athenian Republic, is still a sublime and thrilling chapter in the history of a wonderful people."

"The trial of Alfred Dreyfus is still fresh in the memories of men. The French Republic is still rent by contending factions. His friends say that Dreyfus was a Prometheus who was chained to an ocean-girt rock while the vulture of exile preyed upon his heart. His enemies still assert that he was a Judas who betrayed, not God nor Christ, but France and the Fatherland. But these trials, one and all, were tame and commonplace compared with the trial and crucifixion of the Galilean peasant, Jesus of Nazareth."

In Defense of the Jews

It is not for us to say that the Jews were wholly excusable in their course of injuries toward Jesus in causing his crucifixion by the Romans. On the other hand, it is proper for us to consider everything that could be thought of calculated to mitigate the severity of our judgment regarding the injustices there practiced. And it is proper also that we should consider what, from their standpoint, would seem to be extenuating circumstances. This is everywhere recognized as just treatment. The attorney, defending a criminal who has plead guilty to the charges against him, is considered to do only his duty by his criminal client when he presents whatever in the circumstances of the case would tend to prove that the culprit had cause, or thought that he had a reason for his misdemeanor.

Viewing the Jewish people of nearly nineteen centuries ago from this standpoint we get a more reasonable view of the situation than is otherwise possible. We harken first to St. Peter's words respecting the transaction. He said, "I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers." Had they known, they would not have killed the Prince of life (Acts III, 15-17).

The Jews did not for one moment suppose that the great Messiah, foretold to be their Prophet, Priest and King—like unto Moses, but greater; like unto David and Solomon, but greater; like unto Melchisedek, but greater—would appear as "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." Although those very words were written of him by the Prophet, they were hidden from their eyes of understanding by the glorious things related of him in other prophecies. They saw not, understandingly, the sufferings. To this day they interpret the sufferings of their nation as being those which will ultimately insure to their advantage. The prophetic descriptions are not concentrated, nor collected, but scattered, "here a little and there a little," so written that they could not be understood at the time; nor were they understood even by the Lord's disciples until after his resurrection from the dead, when he explained them, and, subsequently, by the holy Spirit, enabled them still more fully to understand that thus it was written in the prophets and thus it behooved the Son of Man to suffer before entering into his glory—before beginning the work of blessing Israel and the world. Yea, today many Christians are as deeply confused on this matter as are the Jews. Many have rejected entirely the thought of Messiah's glorious Kingdom reign for the general blessing and uplifting of Israel and all humanity. From their standpoint, if "the sufferings of Christ" were intended to prepare the way and usher in his Kingdom of glory, then the program must have failed, or else his Kingdom of glory is to be a heavenly one and not, as they believe, in accord with the prayer taught by our Lord, "Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth." The trouble is that they will not realize that where the sufferings of Christ, the Head, ended, the sufferings of the "Body of Christ" began—the sufferings of "the Church, which is his Body"—filling up the measure of the afflictions of Christ, which are be- hind (Colossians I, 24). As soon as the "Church, the Body of Christ," shall have finished the bearing of the cross, after him, following in his steps to the end of the journey, then the Kingdom glories will be ushered in. Israel's blindness will be turned away and the blessing of the Lord will begin to fill the whole earth.

The Jews, who caused the crucifixion of Jesus, certainly did so in much the same spirit which led St. Paul, then Saul of Tarsus—to cause the stoning of St. Stephen. As Saul was forgiven, so Israel is to be forgiven; as the Scriptures declare, "The Lord will pour upon them the spirit of prayer and supplication," and then they will see, with the eyes of their understanding, "him whom they pierced and they will all mourn for him" (Zechariah XII, 10), and their mourning will be turned into joy; for, as Joseph forgave his brethren, so will this great antitypical Joseph of the throne of earth freely forgive those who caused his crucifixion.

Politics and Selfishness as Religion

The Jews are not so different from other people now, nor were they then. History indicates that some of their highest offices were held by irreligious men for their political influence; thus the chief-priests, at the first advent of our Lord, was a Sadducee, who wholly disbelieved in the promises of God to Israel, including a disbelief in the resurrection of the dead. Similarly today there are high-priests, both amongst Jews and Christians, who disbelieve, and yet hold high positions. Amongst Christians there are D. D.'s who are unbelievers and many of the most notable rabbis amongst the Jews also declare themselves thorough unbelievers. We are not claiming that such unbelieving Christians and Jewish ministers would lightly espouse and support an unjust procedure against an innocent man. We do not know about this. It has yet to be tested, perhaps. We do know, however, that when faith in a Divine Revelation and in a Divine supervision of human affairs is lost the natural effect is that the losers of the faith become more and more policy-men and consider policy the extreme of human wisdom, particularly in the guidance of affairs of Church and State.

Taking history for it, that the leaders of Judah at the time of our Lord were Higher Critical unbelievers (Sadducees), we can readily see that their policy was to curry favor with the Roman Emperor and to seek to hold the common people in subjection to themselves. To these, then, it must have seemed almost a calamity that a poor man, although of noble birth, of the family of David and the Tribe of Judah, should gather about him a handful of nondescript fishermen, tax-gatherers, etc.; that he should pronounce himself a king and declare the setting up of his Kingdom to be near, and that by the exercise of some supernatural power for the healing of their diseases he should attract the "common people" to his standard, but not the learned. We can well imagine their reasoning that, if this thing, the popularity of Jesus, continued to increase, it would shortly reach the ears of the Roman Emperor and then all their claims for Imperial favors would be discounted and they would be rated as a nation of rebels.

The riding of Jesus into Jerusalem, just before the Passover, on an ass, after the manner of the kings of Israel and surrounded by a multitude shouting, "Hosanna to the Son of David who cometh in the name of the Lord," capped the climax, so to speak, and convinced these unbelieving Jews, politicians and unprincipled religious officers, that it would be far better that one innocent man should die than that the whole nation should be turned into turmoil and wrecked by the Romans in consequence. How many American preachers, judges, officials, etc., would in this enlightened day be inclined similarly to decide such a matter? And is not this the policy which always prevails in monarchies? Fancy such a commotion in the capital of Germany, Italy, France, Austria, Russia, Great Britain, the United States. Fancy that after such a parade, mimic though it might appear, the adored one should go to the temple and execute a long- neglected law and, in thus exercising his religious rights, suppose that he should drive out the money-changers and merchants from the outer precincts of their chief religious Cathedral! What would be done to such a person today? Do we not know that in the most civilized lands he would be arrested and imprisoned, and in the more savage lands he would be been or executed? When, therefore, we view the situation from this standpoint we lose any spirit of antagonism which might have been ours; it turns to sympathy—that a religious nation should allow itself to get into the hands of politicians to such an extent.

Brought Before Caiaphas

It was very courageous on the part of St. Peter that, after having smitten off the ear of the High Priest's servant (though the wound was healed by Jesus), he followed his Master into the Court of that high-priest to see what would be done. The arraignment was at night, although it was contrary to Jewish Law to try a prisoner at night for any serious offense (but there was an excuse. This was a special case; haste was necessary, because whatever would be done must be done quickly; the very next day the unbelieving officials perceived that Jesus had great influence with the common people. They believed him to be a brilliant but harmless fiend. He had committed no crime, but he was a disturber of the peace, and they felt fully justified in taking his life. The Feast of Passover was at hand and would last a week and it would be contrary to their Law that any execution should take place during that week. Besides, they feared the amount of influence which Jesus might exercise during the week, when there would be from one to two millions of people in and around Jerusalem from all over Palestine. They had already determined that their action must be short, sharp and decisive. This was decided before the arrest was made. They were ready and waiting at that midnight hour to carry out their murderous designs, for the good of their nation, as they thought.

The examination was merely a preliminary one to get together such evidence as at the morning Tribunal could be rushed through rapidly at a prearranged session.

He Was Charged With Blasphemy

They had difficulty in finding a charge. For what had Jesus ever done except acts of kindness and the uttering of words of wisdom and correction and hope? Blasphemy was a serious charge under the Jewish code. They would charge him with that as being the easiest to prove. He had said, when near the Temple, "Destroy this Temple, and I will rear it up in three days." "But he spake of the temple of his Body." Some of those who heard him understood him to speak of the literal temple. This they charged was blasphemy, because it took years to build the temple, and for Jesus to rebuild it in three days would mean a claim on his part of Divine power. But the charge did not seem sufficiently strong, even for those who had premeditated his murder. They wanted something to give a color of justice, at least, to their judgments. So the chief-priest thought to get Jesus to commit himself in their presence and said, I adjure thee by the living God to tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. Jesus replied that this was true and that they would yet see him in heavenly glory and power at the right hand of Divine favor. This, the High Priest declared, was sufficient proof of blasphemy. "Behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. What reply ye?" And the council answered that he was worthy of death. The rabble in the Court, hearing the commotion, felt at liberty to abuse this prisoner, as they had done others. They showed their contempt of him by spitting upon him. They derided him by holding him and saying, Prophesy, tell who smote thee. "He was reviled, yet reviled not again."

NOTES OF THE FARM.

COLUMN OF INTERESTING NEWS THAT WILL BENEFIT FARMERS.

Hints for Stock Owners.

Let the flock harvest the small turnips on the ground. That old sheep that snuffles will be done for before spring. Let her go now.

To have good-sized sheep they must be grown rapidly while young, and it is important to give them a good start.

Be sure there are no ticks on the ewes. It is very costly to winter ticks and it doesn't pay. It is impossible to fatten a sheep infested with ticks. Look out for them.

Bring the fattening pigs from pasture to concentrated feed gradually.

The brood sows should have two compartments, one for feeding and one for sleeping.

Look out carefully for the drainage of the hog pen. Where does it go? Surely it must not find its way to the well or into a stream!

If you don't want your hogs to eat up every hen they can get, give them a variety of food, so that they will not be so carnivorous in their appetite.

Keep the horses doing something every day. An idle horse will be a sick horse before you know it.

With the fall letting up of work, let up on the heavy feed. Like man, horses doing little work should eat little.

Some of the cracks in the stable can be stopped up more cheaply than you can feed oats to the horse.

es warm.

Mares bred in November will foal the following October, after most of the farm work is done, and the flies are gone.

Some men start for the doctor when they have a sick horse. Others feed well, care well and drive well, so they never have to go to the doctor.

Begin to take the chill off the water you give the horses when the weather gets cold. You can heat it cheaper on the stove than you can in the stomach of the horse.

Don't depend upon the frost-bitten pasture; there is nothing in it. A little neglect at this time of year may start a long winter of loss.

The pinch of a frosty night will make a big hole in the pocketbook. Feeding a lot of dry or nearly dry cows in the winter is almost as wasteful as keeping up roaring fires in the house all summer.

At this time of year, just before cattle go into winter quarters, a dairyman can replenish his dairy by buying helper calves, often at great bargains.

Travelers observe that in Holland the cows are always scrupulously clean, winter and summer. If we can not beat the Dutch we ought at least equal them.

Round about Thanksgiving many do not milk more than once a day. Keep on milking twice a day as long as you milk at all. Better milk, better butter, better for the cows. — From November Farm Journal

Orchard and Garden.

Store the ladders under cover, but give them a good coat of paint first.

Now is a good time to apply manure to raspberries, currants, gooseberries, etc.

As long as the soil remains unfrozen, continue to hoe and cultivate the strawberry bed.

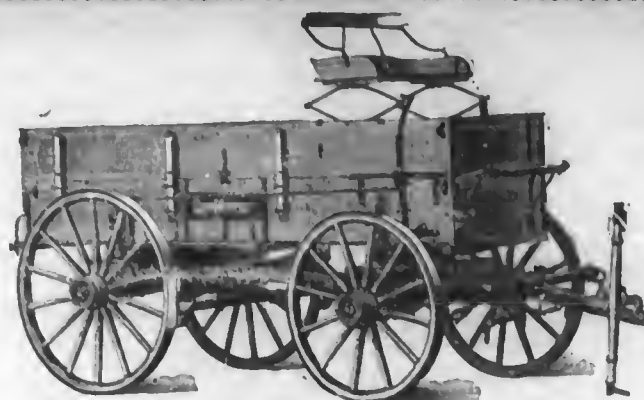

In filling apple barrels, fill until the last layer stands an inch above the chime of the barrel. This ensures solidity when the head is pressed down carefully.

When the ground freezes hard enough to hold up a wagon, is the time to mulch the strawberry bed with straw or marsh hay. Don't be in too big a hurry.

Young trees may require staking if planted in windy, exposed places; but see that the ties can not chafe the trunks. Bands of cloth or leather can be arranged to prevent this.

Late in the fall plow a furrow down through the orchard between every two rows of trees if ground is apt to be wet. The trees will do a great deal better for this drainage. — From November Farm Journal
